Summer Term Visit for Choir to the Memory Cafe

Penponds School returned for their final visit this academic year to Trevenson Church Hall to entertain and join in with crafts with members of the Memory Cafe. The children sang a great repertoire of music, which they performed expertly. After the performance, the children were treated to a drink and snack, before beginning the craft activity of book mark making. They made their own and then helped the members make one too. There was lovely conversation across the ages and a lot of fun was had by all. The children relished on having the opportunity to perform to a live audience (who were very supportive and appreciative) and also to speak to and support others in our community. We are already preparing for our Autumn Term visit!

Geevor Mine Visit - Godolphin Class

On Thursday Godolphin went on a trip to Geevor Mine. First we walked around to look at all of the old machinery and buildings, it was very interesting! We even got to have a go at hand drilling some rock. After lunch we enjoyed panning for gold and gems, we got to keep everything that we found. After this we met a miner who began working at Geevor in 1966, we had so many questions to ask him! Finally, we went underground into Wheal Mexico, it was much smaller than most of us were expecting! We all had a fantastic day and represented our school so well. Our trip was a great way to explore the 'discovery' part of our topic this term and to compare Victorian period mining with mining in the modern age.

Poem

By John Harris Cornish Poet,
Dolcoath Miner and Lay
Preacher (1820-1884)

To My Children

Joyous, sportive, careless things,
Floating by, like silver wings,
Gliding round my humble shed,
Blessings, blessings on your head!
O! what golden cords ye twine
Round this bleeding heart of mine!
O! the music of your voice
Bids the mourning one rejoice,
And your sunny glances throw
Glorious summer round my brow.
Blessings on ye! Glide around,
Making home enchanted ground;
Prattle, carol by mine hearth,
Beautious gems of richest worth!
I will hang upon my lyre,
With my fingers on the wire,
Smiling, through the falling tear,
That ye are so happy here.
What would home, and all its cares,
Be without your simple airs?
Be without your loving kiss,
Sweeteners of domestic bliss?
Ye are all my earthly wealth,
Stars in darkness, suns in health,
Flowers whose healing odours rise
Like the gales of Paradise.
If it were my fate to dwell

In some humble cloister'd cell,
Poor and needy, friendless too,
I would still rejoice with you.
Blessings on ye! May you be Friends of want and misery!
May you live, sweet ones, to throw Nectar on the wounds of woe,
Live the Christian's boon to find,
Live to benefit mankind!
